WHERE TO LIVE

The Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex has seen major growth in recent years. The city is a viable option with a variety of exciting communities, as well as favorable surrounding suburbs.

The greater part of Dallas's HealthTech companies are centrally located in the downtown area, such as Access Physicians and Signify Health. The short commute around the area leaves the option of living up to your personal preferences. With a multitude of different cultures and lifestyles, finding your perfect home should be effortless.

The Uptown District is a large community located in the heart of Dallas. This a perfect location for young professionals with their eyes set on an unmatched urban living experience, from local bars, to museums and entertainment sites.

If its family living you are looking for, Frisco is a perfect location to set your sights on. It's a large diverse town where you can attend your local soccer and football team games. With an abundance of bike trails, dining experiences, and dog parks, it comes as no surprise that the town was recently named the best place to live in Texas.

MUST-SEE CITY SPOTS

REUNION TOWER

The Reunion Tower is one of Dallas's most notable attractions. The location has quickly become host to a variety of events like wine tasting and painting classes that change daily. It also boasts a 560 ft tall revolving geo deck that is lit up at night and gives access to a 360-degree view of the city, making this a great place for dates, tourism, and family-fun.

TEXAS STATE FAIR

The annual Texas State Fair places the city of Dallas on pause. Located in Fair Park, this attraction brings everyone out for family-friendly games, rides, fried-food, shows, and local exhibits. And don't forget to take a picture with the world-famous Big Tex statue.

BISHOP ARTS DISTRICT

The Bishop Arts District is home to many exciting attractions for your day out on the town. There are endless opportunities for shopping, visiting coffee shops, restaurants experiences, and art museums. The location gives the presence of exciting entertainment and a friendly community.

NORTH BEACH

This is not actually a beach, but a small Italian community full of romantic sidewalk cafes and restaurants. The beautiful Church of Saints Peter and Paul is a beloved landmark of the area. Coit Tower, atop Telegraph Hill, also offers an amazing vantage point for views of the bridges and the Bay.

GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE

The iconic picture of the Golden Gate Bridge is even more sensational in person. As one of the seven wonders of the modern world, this bridge manages to impress even the most experienced travelers. Said to be one of the most photographed things on earth - don't forget to take your camera.

CHINATOWN

Dating back further than any other Chinese community in North America and spanning 30 city blocks, San Francisco's Chinatown is the largest neighbourhood of its kind outside Asia.

WORKING IN DALLAS

“The exciting thing about HealthTech is there is a ton of investment going into it, this past year has already broken records. Even though Dallas is still a newer HealthTech market they’re following those same trends.

The city just has a different buzz - a different energy. Everyone is really friendly, and the business community is booming. A lot of businesses are moving here every day. Dallas has a great work/life balance.

When going out there is a ton of food options, you can go twelve different restaurants and never have a bad meal. I would recommend visiting the stock yards in ft worth to get a real old west experience as well” – Sebastian Northrup, VP at Storm3
